

Don's Auto Body Staff Attends Annual Trade Show and Training Conference

Saint Charles, MO (September 27, 2010) – Dave Tritz, owner of Don's Auto Body in Saint Charles, MO, recently attended the Excel 29th Annual Trade Show and Training Conference on September 10-12th at the Saint Charles Convention Center, held by Alliance of Automotive Service Providers (AASP).

Dave Tritz was announced the winner of the outstanding member of the year award for the state of Missouri. AASP is a national association representing the automotive service industry in the United States. The Alliance was founded in 1999 by a coalition of state and regional organizations representing the industry. AASP affiliates represent over 8,500 automotive aftermarket businesses in 22 states and works to strengthen its state and regional affiliates by promoting common business interests, forging strategic alliances and monitoring federal legislation and regulations.

Don's Auto Body reaped many benefits while attending the AASP Annual Conference. The staff revamped their skills by attending the technical classes studying, Volkswagen and Audi Strategies, Advanced Diagnostics, Tire Pressure Monitor Systems Diagnosis, 6.0 Ford Power Stroke Diesel Diagnosis, Toyota Driveability Diagnosis and Process Engineering for Technicians. The staff also attended collision classes learning, Collision Repair for General Motors Vehicles, Collision Repair for Select High Volume Vehicles and Advanced Material Damage Analysis. The conference allowed the staff at Don's Auto Body to study the latest technology in the repair and replacement of advanced materials as well as understanding the general damage analysis for select vehicles in need of repair.
